Shhh

-This a quiet room?

-Drop a bucket of bolts here, sounds like angels whispering.

-Well I don't have much time, Senator. Look! Sixty percent of my business follows the supply-demand curve and other MBA niceties.

-And the other forty?

-Piracy, frankly. And that's were you come in. Pushing legislation to protect me.

-Do my best, but John Q. getting riled up.

-He's a fuckbrain! And if he had any guts, we'd be sharing a cell in Leavenworth.

-I’d prefer Danbury, though the waiting list for the tennis pro is rather long.
